

Award Opportunities

FRPT provides an ideal forum for professionals who want to further their knowledge in the field of FLASH Radiotherapy and share their research with global leaders. As part of a shared goal to foster learning and development, the FRPT is delighted to offer the following award opportunities to eligible professionals:

Who is eligible?

- Everyone who has submitted their abstract during the regular submission period (Late-Breaking Abstract submission deadline: 25 September 2023).
- The applicant must have an accepted abstract in the programme and attend the Conference in-person.
- Request for consideration must be made by submitting an abstract form at the time of submission.

What does the award include?

- Free registration for the FRPT 2023 Conference
- Reimbursement of up to 275 USD towards travel and accommodation costs. The refund will be done post Conference against receipts.

Award Rules:

- Applicants must have an accepted abstract for FRPT 2023.
- Awardees are chosen among presenting authors whose abstract is among the best scoring ones for each scientific track.
- Presenting authors must have submitted their abstract to the Conference via the website until the above-mentioned deadline.
- Awardees will provide banking details for transfer of the award. The transfer will only be made against receipts after the Conference.

- Awardees' names and institutions will be published on the Conference website.

How to apply?

- Late-Breaking Abstract Submission is made via the website until 25 September 2023.
- The awards will be assigned during the late-breaking abstract submission review.

Who is eligible?

- All presenting authors who have submitted their abstract and are registered participants of the FRPT 2023 Conference.
- The applicants must have an accepted abstract in the programme and attend the Conference in-person.
- Request for consideration must be made by submitting an abstract form at the time of submission.

What does the award include?

- Reimbursement of up to 200 USD towards travel and accommodation costs. The refund will be done post Conference against receipts.

Award Rules:

- The selection will be done by the scientific committees and will be based on the following criteria:
 - The scientific content of the abstract
 - Presentation of the abstract at the Conference
- Early career professionals will be given priority during the selection.
- Awardees' names and institutions will be published on the Conference website.

How to apply?

- Abstract submission is made via the website during the official submission period
- The awards will be assigned during the Conference dates and the winners will be announced officially during the closing ceremony.